Nomination Olivier de Guillebon, Galitt's new Executive Director of Consulting

To support its strategic ambitions and reinforce its position in the payments market, Galitt today welcomes Olivier de Guillebon as head of its Consulting teams. A new member of the Executive Committee, his main missions will be business development and the management of major transformation projects on behalf of Galitt's French and international customers, including numerous financial institutions, merchants and players in the payment industry.

With an engineering degree from ESM Saint-Cyr, Olivier de Guillebon began his career as an officer in the French Army. In 2007, after completing an MBA at HEC, he joined Equinox Consulting, where he worked as a Manager on regulatory and internal control projects in the banking sector.

He then joined Magellan Consulting's Banking sector practice as Senior Manager, during which time he developed new skills in Data and Information System digitalization. In 2018, he took part in the creation of a new firm, 1618 Consulting, focusing on the use and value-creation of data for the banking sector. In 2021, he joined the auditing firm RSM as Director in charge of the IT Risk and Transformation offering.

Olivier de Guillebon succeeds Nicolas Miart as Executive Director of Consulting at Galitt.

"I'm delighted and particularly honored to be joining Galitt. Aware of the stakes and challenges involved, I'll be putting all my skills and motivation at the service of a common project, always with a view to helping our teams grow, both individually and collectively!", Olivier de Guillebon, Executive Director of Consulting at Galitt.

"We are delighted to welcome Olivier to Galitt. His solid experience, notably acquired in the banking sector, will enable us to continue developing our consulting offer, as well as our ambition to best support our customers in defining and deploying their payment strategies", Nicolas Grimaud, CEO of Galitt.
