Galitt announces new US General Manager – Mike Delagrange

San Mateo, CA (USA), April 15th, 2013

Galitt, the trusted leader in France and throughout Europe in the areas of payment systems consulting services, test tools and training, today announced the appointment of Mike Delagrange as its new SVP and General Manager of Galitt's US operations reporting to Gerard De Moura, President, Galitt US. Mike Delagrange brings more than 20 years of conventional and emerging payments experience at Gemalto / Gemplus, ViVOtech, Equifax and NCR where he held various sales, business development and marketing positions.

"We welcome Mike's experience and knowledge of emerging payments to the Galitt team" said Gerard De Moura. "In his new role as General Manager, Mike will be responsible for positioning Galitt's over 20 years of success in selling EMV, NFC and TSM consulting services throughout Europe, to major companies in the US. His results-oriented approach and ability to think strategically will play a pivotal role in our profitable growth in the US market which is preparing for a once in a generation overhaul of its payments system."

"I'm am very proud and excited to be joining such a talented and dynamic group of payment professionals" said Mike Delagrange. "The reputation of Galitt as the European leader in delivering innovative payments services, test tools and solutions to its clients, which have already made the transition to EMV and NFC solutions, is a key motivation behind my move. That coupled with the EMV Migration and liability shift dates that are rapidly approaching in the US, Galitt is in a unique position to help US companies quickly and confidently migrate their payment platforms to support EMV and NFC." "We believe that it is therefore essential, stated Gerard De Moura, for Galitt to develop a local team, who will be trained and supported by our European experts, in order to support our US customers with the same quality and precision that we are known for in Europe."

Mike Delagrange received his undergraduate degree in Business Administration from Franklin College in Indiana.

Galitt will be exhibiting at this year's Cartes America conference in Las Vegas at the Mirage Hotel from April 23 – 25.
