Boulogne (France), November 14th, 2011

The petrol card market is booming especially in Europe with the growth of road traffic within the different countries of the European Union. Petrol card is aiming to address real needs of companies regarding fuel purchasing by offering a larger and larger line of services. These cards usually provide real savings on fuel cost, on administration duties, on toll settlements, on cash flow management... Thus petrol card issuers are continuously looking for new points or networks of acceptance.
